Updates

In addition to the weird code and HTML, your website is also made up of things called “Themes” and “Plugins”. In order for your website to not only stay secure – working properly and harmoniously – those themes and plugins need to be kept up-to-date, just like software on your computer.

Safe and Secured Updates

We take a screengrab of your site, perform a backup, run the updates, ping your site to make sure it's up with no errors and then compare the original screengrab to a new one... and if there's an issue, we'll let you know.

Never Worry about Losing the Latest Version

We keep multiple backups of your website on hand. In case an update does cause issues, we can go right back to the safe version of your website, and investigate what caused the issue.

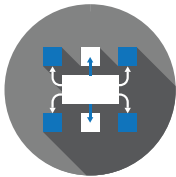

Extra Security

Maintaining updates of your themes and plugins is crucial. If your 'software' is out of date, your website will eventually not work properly, and also poses a threat to hackers sneaking in through your outdated software.
